Banking System, 2024

Economic Developments and Banking System, 2024

Global Economy

Global economic growth is below long-term average: Low growth in developed economies resulted with a low global economic growth. Proliferation of measures limiting global trade, ongoing geopolitical risks, sanctions, high debt ratio and uncertainties in economic policies had a negative impact on economic growth. Extensive use of technological developments in all aspects of the economy, management of climate and environmental risks and the funding of green transformation to offset these risks continue to be major issues.

Geopolitical risks continued: The Russia-Ukraine War which started in February 2022 continued, although its impact diminished. In addition, tensions in the Middle East and the Gaza War have increased geopolitical risks.

Growth in developed economies slowed down: The global economy is estimated to have grown by 3.3 percent in 2024. The growth rates are 1.8 percent in developed economies and 4.3 percent in developing economies. The global economy is expected to perform similarly in 2025.

Global trade accelerated, albeit limited: In 2023, global trade demonstrated a limited growth of 0.7 percent while the growth was 3.8 percent in 2024. The International Monetary Fund (IMF) estimates global trade volume to decline in 2025 due to possible protectionist measures.

Inflation rate continued to decrease in developed and developing economies: The inflation rate decreased in developed and developing economies and stood at 2.5 percent and 6.6 percent, respectively. The inflation rate is expected to continue to decrease.

The decreased rate of inflation in developed economies and concerns regarding growth resulted with loosening in monetary policies. The policy interest rate was reduced to 4.5 percent in the US and 3.25 percent in the EU.

In 2024, oil prices fluctuated. Oil prices rose in the first quarter of the year due to increasing geopolitical risks and supply concerns, but later fell as risks decreased and demand decreased somewhat.

Debt ratio remained high: The debt ratio is 377 percent in developed economies, 245 percent in developing economies and 93 percent in Türkiye. The debt ratio increased by 7 percentage points in developing economies and decreased by 1.3 percentage points in developed economies. The debt ratio of the real sector slightly decreased in both developed and developing economies. Türkiye positively deviates from developed and developing economies with a low debt ratio.

Sustainability: The Corporate Sustainability Due Diligence Directive (CSDDD), which aims to enhance the protection of the environment and human rights through supply chains, entered into force.

United Nations (UN) Climate Change Conference (COP 29) was held in Azerbaijan. At the end of the meeting, calls were made to increase the public and private funds required to help developing economies for climate action until 2035. However, the nations could not come to an agreement regarding the decrease in the use of fossil fuels.

Turkish Economy

Summary

Basic macro indicators were in line with the Medium Term Program (MTP) and the objectives of 2024 Annual Program. The economy started to stabilize and simplification steps have continued.

Monetary policy was focused on lowering the inflation rate in the medium term and ensure price stability. Fiscal policy was focused on keeping the budget deficit below 3 percent, excluding the expenses resulting from the earthquake.

Economic growth continued, albeit slower: Growth was 3.2 percent, close to MTP growth objective. The contribution of net external demand to growth increased.

Unemployment rate was lower than estimated: Unemployment rate was 8.7 percent, lower than the estimation in MTP (9.3 percent).

Inflation declined: Inflation was close to the MTP estimate (41.5 percent). At the end of the year, consumer price inflation was 44.4 percent and producer price inflation was 28.5 percent. The limited decline in service prices had an impact on the average rate. Inflation expectation of the real sector and the household is in decline.

Policy interest rate was increased to 50 percent at the end of Q1 and remained unchanged until the end of December. The policy interest rate increase which started in the second half of 2023 continued until 2024 Q2. The interest rate increased from 42.5 percent at the end of 2023 to 50 percent as of the end of March. The interest rate was reduced to 47.5 percent at the final meeting of the year.

Regulatory reserves based on credit growth were introduced for industries other than those specified by CBRT. Growth limits were implemented for TL and FX loans. CBRT took steps to boost the share of TL deposits and decrease the share of FX-protected deposits. Incentives for FX-protected deposits and FX-conversion deposits continued, albeit limited.

Demand for TL deposits increased strongly. With the impact of the transition from FX-protected deposits and FX-conversion deposits to TL and from FX to TL, the share of TL deposits (excluding FX-protected deposits) among total deposits increased significantly. The share increased from 42 percent at the end of 2023 to 59 percent as of the end of 2024.

The value of TL remained stable: Due to the reverse currency substitution by local investors and TL investments by foreign investors, FX supply increased. The decline in current account deficit reduced the demand for foreign currency. TL has been stable throughout the year.

The share of TL loans decreased: The share of TL loans among total loans decreased. It decreased from 68 percent at the end of 2023 to 63 percent as of the end of 2024.

Gross and net reserves of the Central Bank rised: Gross reserves increased by 9.9 percent to USD 155.3 billion and net reserves increased by 82 percent to USD 63.6 billion. Swap transactions decreased by 70 percent to USD 22.3 billion.

Budget deficit was around 5 percent: Ratio of budget revenues and budget expenses to gdp was 20 percent and 25 percent, respectively. The ratio of budget deficit to gdp was 4.8 percent.

Türkiye has a low debt ratio: The ratio of debt to gdp in Türkiye is 93 percent. The debt ratio of Türkiye is relatively low as compared to developed and developing economies.

Current account deficit decreased: As imports declined and exports and tourism revenues continued to increase, the current account deficit narrowed rapidly and fell to 10 billion dollars in 2024. The ratio of the current account deficit to gdp decreased by 2.4 percentage points to 0.7 percent. Gold imports decreased by 43 percent.

Portfolio investments by foreign investors increased: The share of portfolio investments in financing the current account deficit increased. Portfolio investments increased by 107 percent to USD 12 billion in 2024.

External debt stock decreased: In 2024, external debt stock increased by USD 25 billion to USD 516 billion. The ratio of the external debt stock to gdp decreased by 4 percentage points to 39 percent.

The real sector's foreign exchange open position increased: The real sector net FX gap increased by USD 67 billion as compared to the end of 2023 and reached USD 137 billion as of the end of 2024.

Market value of companies traded at the stock exchange increased: The market value of publicly-traded companies increased by 30 percent to TL 14.8 trillion. The ratio of the market value to gdp decreased by 9 percentage points to 34 percent.
